Currently graduate

- As an NCATE accredited College of Education (COE) at Northern Arizona University (NAU) and leader in teacher preparation programs, we recognize the responsibility to prepare teachers to meet the needs of 21st century schools.

- The Common Core State Standards Initiative (CCSSI) is a critical element of this current preparation and complements our goal articulated by the NCATE Blue Ribbon Panel report which states:
 - To prepare effective teachers for 21st century classrooms, teacher education must shift away from a norm which emphasizes academic preparation and course work loosely linked to school-based experiences. Rather, it must move to programs that are fully grounded in clinical practice and interwoven with academic content and professional courses. (NCATE, 2010, para. 1)

- We are cognizant that all students in the P-20 system deserve our best. Therefore, careful preparation of preservice teachers is needed so that new teachers will be able to meet students where they are in order to maximize the potential and achievement of P-20 students. Understanding of the CCSS and the implementation and integration of these standards is necessary in order to support Arizona's greatest resource, its children.
